

Appleby Vanner Farm is where beauty and excellence converge. We have spectacular Gypsy Vanner Horses that are all from the original stock imported into this country by Dennis and Cindy Thompson in 1996. We also have a gene pool here of Cushti Bok horses. Cushti Bok, meaning "Good Luck" in the Romany language, was the very first stallion to hit American soil on Easter Sunday 1997, imported also by the Thompsons.

We are referred to by our peers as the "Botique" for the Gypsy Vanner because though we are small in numbers compared to other farms, each horse has been handpicked for a very selective breeding program. Our goal is to stay true to the vision the Gypsies themselves have for this horse. Because of our high standards, we have been invited to become part of Team Vanner which consists of several farms scattered across the country who have joined together for the primary goal of protecting the integrity of this magnificent Breed.

We will have our first crop of foals born in 2010. A couple of them will be for sale to approved homes. We do require references. The foals are imprinted at birth, handled daily, and trained exclusively using Parelli Natural Horsemanship. For the first time ever, we will be using Linda Parelli's Horseanality charts trying to match the right horse with the right person. To us it is way more than the money involved in a sale. These are such magnificent animals that can compete in any venue you place them. We want people to acquire the horse of their dreams and form a "forever partnership" that will turn out far above anything they could have imagined. With every sale we are including Parelli's Level One Training program in its entirety to start you on the road to success with your new equine partner. Whether you have been around horses your whole life or are just starting out, this Program will revolutionize your thinking and relationship.

Come visit us and take the first step on your journey to living your dream. The whole story of Appleby Vanner Farm, its conception, the wonderful people God has brought into our lives, will be in the January Yankee Pedlar where one of our horses will be featured on the Cover.
